

How This Spirit-Filled Worship Band Praised God Through Heartbreaking Loss and Grief

KXC Worship gathered last March in London to praise and worship with their city. But the circumstances were far from what they initially expected. Just days before recording an album and performing live, Andrew Jackson—who was just 30 years old—died after medical complications during the plane ride to London.

In this beautiful video, KXC Pastor Pete Hughes, members of the KXC Worship group, Jackson's friends and even his parents tell the story of the grief, loss and pain of that week—and how they worshipped God through it and God transformed that grief into something beautiful. Don't miss this incredible story. Watch the video here.
