

How to Achieve Real, Lasting Healing

Joe Horn says he was a time bomb waiting to die.

By his early 30s, he'd had multiple procedures for his many diagnoses and couldn't even muscle through a two-hour movie without excruciating pain.

It seemed every time he went to the doctor, they had a new disease with which to label him.

But Horn knew God had better for him, and that healing was possible.

Here's what he discovered.
