

How to Know If God Has Called You to Adopt

Russell Moore, head of the Southern Baptist Convention's Ethics & Religious Liberty Commission, recently made a short video in which he explains how Christians can know if they should adopt. After all, Moore says, "Somebody who's not called or equipped to adopt shouldn't be doing it." While we all want to take care of the orphans—as Jesus commanded us to do—watch the video to discern whether adoption is the way you should do that.