

How to Live Out God's Calling on Your Life When You Don't Feel Good Enough

Beyond the feeling of wishing you got better gifts for Christmas, do you ever wish you were better on the inside? When we feel like this, perhaps we're not recognizing the fact that God has a different plan for everyone—He gives us what we need individually to fulfill the unique calling on our life, says Pastor Tim Doremus during a service at .

"It's so easy for us to look at somebody else and see the thumbprint of God on their life and to say, man, God has gifted that person," Doremus says. " ... Maybe you're here today and you don't know what that specific calling is [for your life], and that's OK. Here's what I know: When God calls you to something, He's going to make it clear. ... [And] He's given you the means to carry out the calling. ...

"If you don't know what God has gifted you with, here's my encouragement for you: Ask somebody. ... God hasn't made us awesome at everything, but He has made you gifted in some things."

If you don't feel like you have what it takes to live out the calling God's placed on your life, receive the entire empowering message about God's promises by clicking here.