

Is Kim Clement's 2010 Prophecy About Betrayal in the White House Happening Right Now?

Nine years ago, the late prophet Kim Clement prophesied of a betrayal in the White House that he says began in 2010.

In Prophetic Rewind, Clement reveals what God showed him regarding Russia, Iran and “the serpent who has to get close in order to suffocate.”

“Vision and betrayal are partners,” he says. “The heavens have opened up, and there is a great prophetic revelation present, but there is also betrayal present.”

Clement says there is a “snake hidden in the capital. God says, ‘I will bring it out.’ And this exposure shall cause the nation to shake. God says, ‘The shaking is good for America. You’re about to embark on a journey you’ve never embarked upon before. From the south of your land and into the middle of your country, from west and then back to south, east and north, they shall say, ‘This has never happened before in our country and in our culture.’”

Clement describes a vision he had early one morning of a long table in the White House. At the table, he saw a culturally diverse clothing and heard God say, “The hand of the betrayer is at the table.”
