

Jentezen Franklin Invites Holy Spirit With Moving Saxophone Performance

It's not every day you see a megachurch pastor play the saxophone.

But this Sunday, Jentezen Franklin, pastor of Free Chapel in Gainesville, Georgia, did just that when he performed his version of the popular song "Fight My Battles," written by Elyssa Smith, a member of the worship ensemble Upperroom.

"This is how I fight my battles," the song's lyrics proclaim.

Read the full article from our content partners at and watch full performance by Pastor Franklin here.