

Joel Osteen Tears Up Praising John Gray

Joel Osteen, John Gray's former pastor, shed a few tears during Gray's installation at Relentless Church. Though Gray took over the reigns of the former Redemption Church last month from Ron Carpenter, Sunday was his official installation. "John and Averter are faithful people. They are loyal people," Osteen, pastor of Lakewood Church in Houston, says. "I cry way too easy."

He continued: "John and Averter have made me better. I can truly say that Lakewood is better today because John and Averter have been there." Watch the video to see the full speech.
