

John Bevere: How the 'Love Wins' Movement Proves the Church is 'Out of Calibration'

John Bevere says he wasn't surprised when the Supreme Court legalized same-sex marriage, but he was surprised to see Christians applauding it. He points to some Christians who defended the decision in the name of love, and says it's proof that the devil can corrupt good messages and values to destroy our faith. Watch his warning here.