

Kim Clement Prophesies End of the UN

The United States left the United Nations Human Rights Council last month in a sign that could be the beginning of the end for the paracountry organization.

“I see trouble brewing for the U.N.,” Donne Clement Petruska, prophet Kim Clement’s daughter, says. “As more and more corruption is exposed, I believe we are beginning to see the fulfillment of what my father, Kim Clement, saw and prophesied over and over again.”

Years ago, Clement fervently prophesied that the U.N. was a “stench to God’s nostrils because of corruption, that a Judas had been housed, betrayal.” And with the organization’s anti-Israel bias, his words seem true. Watch the video to see more.
