

Lee Grady Challenges the Church to Recover the Lost Art of Making Disciples

The Lord is bringing His church back to the original mandate of reaching the lost and making disciples. For too long we've gotten off the beaten path by focusing most of our time and energy on creating systems and programs instead of making disciples.

The church has cared more about filling the building and less about seeing eternal transformation in the hearts of everyone in the seats. It is time we recapture the original and ancient vision of Christ and really get in the thick of people's lives and make evangelism and discipleship the priority again. This is where we will begin to see eternal fruit that remains.

For more on this life-changing topic, watch my interview with author, minister and Charisma contributing editor Lee Grady above or at this link, and listen to the Awaken podcast interview here. {eo}

Connect with Michael Lombardo at and on Facebook, YouTube or Instagram. Order his book, Immersed in His Glory, here.

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.