

Like Father, Like Sun? Vatican's Nativity Scene Features Unusual Characters

The Vatican is facing mixed reviews for its unconventional nativity scene this year. The display features an out-of-this-world theme based on the lunar landings in the late 1960s and early 1970s.

Fox News contributor Rachel Campos-Duffy echoes the appalled cry of many:

This monstrosity is the Vatican's nativity scene. Nothing like ugly robot space aliens to undermine the beauty & humanity of the Holy Family at Christmas time, during a pandemic when we need our timeless Church traditions more than ever. Thanks, Pope Francis!

– Rachel Campos-Duffy (@RCamposDuffy) December 11, 2020

Watch this video to get the full scoop on the modern interpretation.