

Loren Sandford Shares Nearly Unbelievable Prophetic Dream About President Obama

R. Loren Sandford recently shared with Sid Roth a weird prophetic dream he had about President Barack Obama.

In the dream, Sandford says he was in a shopping mall with the former president, who was about to address recent shootings.

“So I’m filled with this overwhelming love, this impetus from the Lord to go up to Obama, take his hand,” Sandford says. “I walked right past the Secret Service guy, and take his hand and say, ‘Mr. President, would it be alright if I stood with you?’”
