

Lou Engle: Why I Ended TheCall

Lou Engle recently announced he was ending TheCall to shift his attention to The Send, a movement dedicated to evangelizing the next generation.

The Send kicks off with an event in February, which its founders hope will lead to pulling down Billy Graham's mantle and a double portion anointing for a new Jesus Movement. If that happens, Engle says, "It will be a breakthrough moment for a shifting in American history." He shares his heart in this video.
