

Meet the Christian Theologian Who Tried to Assassinate Adolf Hitler

In the 1930s, Dietrich Bonhoeffer was one of Germany's most famous pastors and theologians—at a time when German clergy were increasingly capitulating and buying into Hitler's anti-Semitism. Bonhoeffer joined the Confessing Church, a movement resisting Nazism, and eventually joined a plot to assassinate Hitler. The Museum of the Bible briefly presents his story here.