

Neuroscience Proves Proverbs 22:6—So Why Are Christians Ignoring It?

Thousands of years ago, the author of Proverbs wrote, “Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it.” Now neuroscience has proven that truth. Unfortunately, many Christian parents are starting to de-emphasize the importance of training kids in the Bible. Suzanne Phillips addresses this problem and explain how she decided to counter it in this fascinating presentation.
