

One Truth That Will Change Your Entire Walk With Jesus

As a young believer, Rabbi Kirt Schneider saw himself as a warrior—fighting for faith, striving for mastery and trusting Jesus for victory in every area of life. The Bible says, “Whoever is born of God overcomes the world” (1 John 5:4), and that was his pursuit: spiritual triumph. But early on, he missed one of the most profound revelations of the Gospel—God is love.

In 1 John 4:8, Scripture tells us, “The one who does not love does not know God, for God is love.” Victory in Christ isn’t just about overcoming external battles; it’s about learning to love like He loves. Love isn’t merely a feeling or emotional high—it’s a daily choice to lay down your life, to serve, to forgive, to show up even when it hurts.
