

Pentecostal Pastor: God Gave Me a Prophetic Word, and Then I Went Viral

Pastor Michael Todd has gone from relatively unknown to a celebrity pastor in just months. Todd, who leads Transformation Church in Tulsa, Oklahoma, says it all began when he received a word from God to stop striving in his own power and “slow down.” He obeyed. Then in December 2017, a popular social media account randomly found and tweeted a 10-minute video from one of his sermons, which got 2 million views in just 48 hours. Now he’s nationally known—through none of his own striving or effort. He shares his incredible story with Elevation Church’s Tim Summers in this video.
