

Pentecostal Singer Boldly Reimagines Club Hit as a Christian Song

Can a secular song's beat be redeemed for Christian usage? That's what Christian singer Beckah Shae set out to do. She remixes Charlie Puth's "Attention," a chart-climbing secular hit, into a Christian song by switching around some lyrics. Is this a worthy remake or just a strange misfire? Let us know what you think in the comments.