

Prophecy: Underground Intercessors Rooting Down Deep in Prayer

During a prophetic intercessory prayer call, I saw companies of intercessors forming. I saw streams of intercessors uniting from different churches and different cities coming together.

I saw an underground project of intercessors going underground and at the right time they are going to surface like a groundhog.

These intercessors are rooting down—it's an underground network of intercessors that's beginning to rise up in different cities. They are not concerned about who goes to what church. They are about the kingdom.
