

Prophetic Word: Lou Engle's Pro-Life Vision Will Come to Fruition

I woke up out of a dream early recently where I was sitting and having a kingdom conversation with Lou Engle. As I interacted with Lou in this dream, I found our conversation swayed toward the topic of the generals in the faith and how the pouring into the Millennial generation has prepared a schooled remnant for the stretching of the end times.

While I thanked Engle for his dedication and perseverance in preparing a generation for deep intercession, fasting and focused prayer, I was also aware of his unrelenting work of saving the unborn by choosing life over abortion.

There was an aspect to the conversation between Engle and a group of people carrying a building anointing and a forerunning spirit in this dream that focused on the educational system and how it deeply lacked the anointing resting on Engle's life, mandate and assignment upon the earth. While there were a few, dedicated believers who were willing to pioneer a pro-life movement in the educational system, the liberal media challenged what the Spirit of God has intended by playing checkmate with the enemies' schemes.

The Spirit of God spoke this to me:

I am calling for a rising up of record-breakers who will run with the vision of pioneering an anti-abortion move of My Spirit in the world's education systems. I am calling all builders to build upon the foundation of My Word for shifting what is now called abortion clinics and into sanctuaries of life for the unborn. A passing of the mantle of intercession for My end-time remnant is arising at this hour. The voice of one crying in the darkness of these last days will be that of

My chosen who are prepared, ready and willing to face the spirit of Molech operating deceitfully in the land (Lev. 18:21).

In the days ahead, you will hear the voices of My children proclaiming the celebration of an overturning rule for abortion and the sanctity of life. No more will you hear the voices of My children calling injustice from the grave. But you will instead hear the cries of the newborn blaring the sound of victory in your ears. Keep watch from state to state and from coast to coast where the turning of hearts will precipitate the saving of many lives. A building anointing for men donning a cap and gown from elite universities around the world is canceling out the stealing of life and erecting houses of refuge for all to behold. {eo}
