

Publix Bagger Inspires Customers Because 'I Have Jesus in My Heart'

They say everyone knows Joey Hale. The Publix bagger has been a staple at the Birmingham, Alabama, area store since it opened in 2016.

His positive attitude and corny jokes make customers feel welcomed at the supermarket.

But Hale says his demeanor stems from something deeper.

"I have Jesus in my heart, and that makes me think so much about others," Hale says.

It's his faith that's kept him going, even after multiple brain injuries and surgeries.

Watch the video to hear more of his inspiring story.