

Robert Morris: White People Don't Understand the Depth of America's Racism

Gateway Church's Pastor Robert Morris believes that the church—and especially white people—don't recognize the gravity of the racism problem facing our country. But it's not out of malice or evil—it's just out of ignorance. He explains why using a water bottle.