

Spirit-Filled Pastor Calls Out Conservative Churches for Mocking Emotional Worship

Shane Idleman says the reason many people at conservative churches mock emotional worship is because they've never truly experienced God. Idleman says, "Why are we embarrassed to come to the altar? We should be embarrassed not to. Many people would rather be seen leaving a bar than leaving a church." He explains why it's wrong to mock people who worship passionately and emotionally in this sermon clip.