

Spirit-Inspired Prayer for Racial Reconciliation Performed in Truth, Power

Lo the Poet's powerful prayer for reconciliation in the church is for believers to transcend cultural and racial divides. The spoken word artist and minister, whose real name is Lo Alaman, gives a performance that paints a picture of worship on earth as it is in heaven—if we would just do the work to make it a reality.

He prays, "May we not be foolish enough to think we can confine Your glory in just one building or contain Your grace to just one race or denomination."
