

Standout Christian Artist Releases Love Song for Future Wife

Cade Thompson, the 20-year-old Christian musician based in Franklin, Tennessee, has released a love song for his future wife sure to make the hardest of hearts believe again in God's divine plan in crafting the perfect love story.

As the day of relationships draws near—when many singles are blatantly reminded of their relationship status—the song serves as a good reminder to seek God in all seasons of life. Focusing on building character that makes God proud will nurture not only contentment but a healthy awareness of one's identity as a child of God first and foremost.

Watch the official music video here.

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.