

Take the Risk of Faith

(PART 1)

If we are not careful, we can begin to view our lives as limited to a shortfall of blessings—when the opposite is true. God is a loving God of abundance. As a result, we are destined to be blessed when we obey Him and walk according to His Word.

READ: Matt. 7:7; Matt. 7:11; Matt. 11:27-29; Mark 5:25-34 (The Message); Eph. 3:20; 3 John 2.

HEART ISSUE: Can you begin to let go of the dry season you have been living in and embrace a destiny that God promises you in His Word?

PRAYER FOCUS:

Father, I thank You that regardless of what I have gone through in the past, You are a loving Father, whose desire for me is health and prosperity. I accept this, and I choose to walk in faith, claiming my destiny because of my heavenly Father and my faith in His promises. Amen.

(PART 2)

Are you living in doubt and fear? Would you like to begin living in hope? God's Word will instruct you and help you to embrace His great promises for your life.

READ: Matt. 8:14-15; Matt. 9:28-29; Matt. 21:21; Mark 1:40-41; Rom. 10:17; Heb. 4:15.

HEART ISSUE: Challenge yourself today and throughout this week to focus on the truth that God is bigger than all of your past, present and future circumstances.

PRAYER FOCUS: Father, I thank You that regardless of the situation, I can believe Your promises. Thank You for giving me peace in the middle of life's storms, joy after mourning and victory after struggle. Amen.
