

Tapping Into the Gift of Knowing

Have you ever heard someone talk about sixth sense?

In the secular world, they are talking about paranormal phenomenon like extrasensory perception. That's not what we're talking about here. That's witchcraft.

Knowing in the spirit is part of the seer's discernment, and it has nothing to do with familiar spirits or the paranormal. It has to do with the supernatural.

Some say it's not a sense, but seers like James Goll call it a sixth sense, redeeming the language the world created as it counterfeited an actual spiritual experience. He says knowing is like a sixth sense.

Interestingly enough, Merriam-Webster's dictionary has sixth sense listed. The dictionary's definition is a "power of perception like but not one of the five senses; a keen intuitive power." {eoa}
