

The Best Way to Share Your Message With the World

Are you connecting with your audience's felt needs? Whether you're marketing products or sharing the gospel, it's important to find out how to communicate with your audience. Dr. Steve Greene offers some advice in this short video.