

The Reward of Repetition Makes You Truly Rooted

Pastor Mike Signorelli of New York City's V1 Church believes that when the driving force behind your finding a church in whatever season you find yourself in is "I just felt like," you miss the reward of being truly rooted. Just as plants need a deep pot to grow their roots, Christians need a season of being rooted in a church to see the real fruit of that season. Signorelli says "being rooted is repetition."

Do you find yourself being rooted in shallow pots? Do you struggle to believe your roots can go down deeper than you ever imagined?

Pastor Signorelli reminds us that "even unfavorable conditions can be used by God to grow you deep, to grow you wide, to grow you high."
