

The Secret Program You're Not Supposed to Know About

There's a secret Planned Parenthood Program they don't want you to know about.

It's called "The Negro Project," evangelist Alveda King tells the Bakkers on a recent episode of The Jim Bakker Show.

Before abortion was fully legal in all 50 states, PPH offered free services to African-Americans so they could be a "credit to their race," King says.

Despite the fancy media campaign built around the program, King says it really pushed eugenics.

Take a look.
