

Theater Production of 'Jesus' Gives a Close and Personal Look at His Easter Miracle

In a spectacular display of Spirit-inspired showmanship, Sight & Sound Theatres presents their production of Jesus this Easter weekend, Friday, April 2, 2021, at 7 p.m. Eastern.

This dramatic depiction of Jesus' death and resurrection is brought to life by the Branson, Missouri, cast for a special weekend-only showing on Sight & Sound TV.

The acclaimed production company has been long applauded for its dedication to bringing the Bible to life beyond the stage. What started out as a traveling multimedia show has become a destination for millions worldwide through movie theaters, DVD and online streaming services.

"There is a strong need in the world today for this type of a ministry," founder of Sight & Sound Theatres in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, Glenn Eshelman said. "For too long, the world has looked at Christian drama as bathrobes and half-cut wigs. Why should it not be equal to that of Broadway, equal to that in Las Vegas?"
