

This Beloved Spirit-Filled Organization Will Move to New Headquarters in December

Morris Cerullo World Evangelism will move its headquarters to the Morris Cerullo Legacy International Center during the first week of December, leaving the headquarters where it's been stationed since 1992. Greg Hodson, vice president of television at MCWE, explained the status of the organization's move in a recent video.

"We're moving to Hotel Circle in Mission Valley, the location of the Morris Cerullo Legacy International Center," Hodson says. "We're very excited. In fact, in just a couple weeks, we're all going to pack up from here and move over there. ... The vision has been manifested. We are moving in."

According to Hodson, Cerullo has been recently away at a Conference on the Holy Spirit in Israel from Nov. 21-23.

Charisma profiled the Legacy Center earlier this year. Read more about it here.