

This Fast-Talking Preacher Boldly Prophesies Exactly What You Need

There's a reason they call Kim Jones-Pothier "Real-Talk Kim."

The Atlanta-based pastor brought pure fire when she prophesied over hundreds of people at the Charisma Conference.

"Right now in the name of Jesus, God's breaking some things up in this room right now," Pothier said from the stage. "Some of you have been immune, some of you have been numb, some of you have just felt stuck in a season, and right now, I prophesy in the next 15 minutes, you're about to get up and walk out of some of these seasons that have kept you muted and broken and paralyzed.

"Lord, I thank You for revelation, I thank You for revealing, I thank You, Lord, by the time we walk out of this place, over the threshold, that we've had an awakening, Lord, that You're stirring up things on the inside," she says.

Watch the video for the full prophecy and to claim it as your own.