Woke Bishop Turns to Daytime TV for Support After Trump Rebuke

Bishop Mariann Edgar Budde publicly addressed her rebuke of the president during the National Prayer Service on Tuesday.

Speaking to “The View,” Budde says that, “My responsibility that morning, yesterday morning, was to reflect, to pray with the nation for unity. And I was pondering what are the foundations of unity, I wanted to emphasize respecting the honor and dignity of every human being.”

Budde says she was going against a “narrative” she believes is polarizing and divisive, and that she was deliberately not paying attention to the reactions of Trump and Vance while delivering her message.
