

Urgent: Gospel Prayer Need Amid Persecution

Caleb Wampler of Kingdom Encounters International is calling for prayer as he and his team begin their drive in an undisclosed nation to what he says is an “unsafe location” where they intend to share the gospel.

“We’ve already had two people on our team arrested,” he says. “And they’re doing that to try to appease the officials so that the gospel can be preached.”

“This is getting real, folks,” Wampler adds. “This is why people pray. Please pray.” {eo}
