

VIDEO: James O. Davis Explains Billion Soul Network's Role in Great Commission

James O. Davis, co-founder of the Billion Soul Network, dreams of doubling the size of the global church to finish the Great Commission in this century. Not only is he not alone in this dream, he's also seeing it accomplished through a remarkable global network of pastors and church leaders. Watch to discover how his organization has successfully crossed denominational lines around the world to help bring in a great harvest of souls, and find out the Billion Soul Network's brand-new online resource that you can use for training.