

WATCH: 46% of Americans' Choice for President in 2024 Election

Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson, star of Jumanji, the Fast and Furious films and Disney's Moana, teased the possibility of running for president, if that's "what the people want."

The film star and former professional wrestler has hinted in the past a potential bid for the highest seat of power in America but has never confirmed an official run. He appeared on a recent Today interview, in which host Willie Geist asked, "Could the people's champ become the people's president?"

Following a recent Piplsay poll which reveals 46% of Americans would support The Rock's presidential bid, the actor replied via Twitter.

Watch the Charisma News update with Jeff Struss and read the full story here.