

WATCH: Kanye West Supports New Christian Movie Starring Popular Christian Comedian

In an upcoming movie titled Selfie Dad, Ben Marcus goes through a midlife crisis, realizing he was born for comedy. He starts a YouTube channel and his videos go viral, but he's not ready for what happens next: His family life starts falling apart.

"What if you dove deeper into the Bible than you ever have before?" Marcus' friend asks him. "I can't afford to be sitting around reading a Bible," Marcus responds. Still, his friend pushes back. What happens next?

A press release from 130 Agency noted that "Super-star music artist Kanye West, a Christian actively reading and studying the Word of God, watched the Selfie Dad trailer and immediately offered one of his hit songs to feature in the film."

Starring popular Christian comedian Chonda Pierce and YouTuber Michael Jr., you won't want to miss this family-friendly title hitting theaters June 12. To watch the entire trailer (which features Kanye West's "Use This Gospel"), click here.
