

WATCH: Lauren Daigle Returns to the Spotlight After Saying She Didn't Know if Homosexuality Is a Sin

Christian singer Lauren Daigle performed her worshipful single "You Say" on ABC's Good Morning America last week.

The appearance was one of her first in weeks after she told a radio host she didn't know if homosexuality was a sin and that if people were curious, they should read the Bible.

Daigle has been nominated for two Grammy awards this year, one for her album Look Up, Child, and another for the song she sang on the hit morning show.

Watch and worship.
