

WATCH: Pentecostal Minister Calls Out Satanists Over Religious Freedom Battles

America's Founding Fathers knew the importance of incorporating Christ into the nation's fabric of society.

But as the U.S. allowed morality to erode, secular and even satanic organizations fight for the spotlight.

To truly understand religious freedom, Sen. Jason Rapert says, we must go back to America's founding documents, including the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution.

Rapert knows firsthand what the battle between good and evil looks like in a political realm. Just last week, the Satanic Temple held a protest against a Ten Commandments Monument at the Arkansas state capitol where they unveiled a statue of Baphomet, a demonic symbol.

But this didn't faze Rapert, who is an ordained minister and the founder of Holy Ghost Ministries.

Take a look.
