

What Does Hell Sound Like?

There is something about hell you may have never even considered. What does it sound like?

One of the things I experienced during my 23 minutes in hell was the sound of terror and hopelessness. There were thousands and thousands of people screaming in agony. The screams in hell are deafening. The sound caused by untold terror penetrating a person's very being is difficult to describe.

If you've ever been so frightened, so desperate, thinking that you might die, you may have experienced this. Yet one thing is very different. Take that terrifying sound and multiply it millions of times. This is a sound that will never end, and it's a sound no one would ever want to hear for eternity.

For more on hell and his experience in it, watch the full video from Bill Wiese here.