

What God Taught Bethel's Steffany Gretzinger Through Her Father's Cancer Diagnosis

When Steffany Gretzinger found out her father was dying from cancer, it started a spiritual journey for her. She says it forced her to “look death in the face”—but also to consider God’s power over darkness. The material from that journey inspired her new solo album, Blackout, available now. She shares her testimony in this video.