

What Happened When Samuel Rodriguez Was Asked to Join a ‘Politically Correct’ Prayer

Back in the day, Samuel Rodriguez was invited to Washington, D.C., to pray—with one caveat. He was asked to publicly pray with three other faith leaders from different religions, in order to give a politically correct image. Rodriguez’s story of what happened next is both hilarious and inspirational.