

Why Joel Osteen, Kari Jobe and Hillsong Joined Forces

A special night of music and uplifting messages to benefit hurricane relief for the city of Houston took place Sunday night at the Lakewood Church in Houston.

The event titled “WORSHIP RELIEF: Houston, You’re Not Alone” was broadcast nationwide starting at 7 p.m. Central. The free event was also open to the public in the Houston area.

Big-name Christian groups, performers and speakers including Bethel Music, Chris Quilala, Cody Carnes, Hillsong Worship, Joel and Victoria Osteen, Kari Jobe, Passion, Pat Barrett and Tasha Cobbs Leonard participated.

The event was also streamed Live on , SiriusXM Radio ch. 128, and was also scheduled to be broadcast on TBN. Proceeds raised through this event will benefit Hope City Houston, Lakewood Church and Convoy of Hope to continue to rebuild the city of Houston.

The idea of the event came from the Christian creative community of artists culminating to benefit the city of Houston and the victims of Hurricane Harvey, especially as the city begins to rebuild.

The foundation of “WORSHIP RELIEF: Houston, You’re Not Alone” is a prayer that Houston would come worship, being encouraged in His presence and see revival in the midst of rebuilding the city.

{eoa}

Copyright The Christian Broadcasting Network, Inc., All rights reserved.