

Woman Brings ‘World’s Best’ Judges to Tears With Andrae Crouch Tribute

Vonnie Lopez made a promise to herself in prayer when she was a tone-deaf child: that one day, she would bring God the glory through song.

On an international stage this week, Lopez did just that.

The signer belted Andrae Crouch’s “My Tribute (To God be The Glory)” for her performance on The World’s Best.

The worship was so moving, it brought judges, including Faith Hill, to tears.

Watch the video and worship with us.

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.