

Worship Song Causes ‘Palpable Shift in the Air’

“Reformation Tide,” released June 27, 2020, is a song nine years in the making by Jessie Flowers. When the song was first sung at Bridgeway Church in Greenville, South Carolina, there was a palpable shift in the air. This song would be something to mark a specific time in history of the Bride and the land.

As the song was finished, an idea came together from Holy Spirit to partner with the Bridgeway Worship Arts team to create a visual representation of these powerful lyrics.

The song features Jessie Flowers, Blake Berg and Christian Clay.

Watch the behind the scenes of the music video here.

Find the song on iTunes and Spotify.