

How to Remove the Strongman of Rejection From Your Life

People who deal with rejection internalize their emotions, which eventually leads to the creation of a world of fantasy or the development of a false personality. This causes them to live in unreality.

The root cause of a rejection personality malfunction is emotional pain. This person has spent years building a house (life) made of construction materials that are not from God.

I recently ministered to a man who was put in a foster home at the age of four. Because of the situations that had transpired in his young life prior to his being placed in the foster home, he had deemed himself as a failure.

This was some of the construction materials he had bought into from this spirit of rejection, along with self-rejection, inadequacy, performance, fear and so forth. Now in his 50s, he was still living out a life of this fear of failure and rejection, feeling he had little self-worth.

But the Lord revealed the schemes the enemy set up in his life to steal from him, and after a prayer of deliverance, this man has been set free to move forward in his life. He is now in the process of purchasing a home, operating in ministry and feeling, for the first time, he can walk in victory in his life. God is good.

Rejection wants to give you your identity; don't let it. Learn his schemes, how he operates and remove this strongman and his underlings from your life.

These teachings will radically set you free from the mental torment of rejection, the self-hate, bitterness, worthlessness, frustration and always feeling the need to be accepted by man.

It's time to come out of captivity.
