

How You Can Root Out Strongholds Through Accelerated Discernment

Our strongholds prevent us from receiving the fullness of God and manifesting out our destiny.

What if you could easily identify your stronghold and then root it out through accelerated discernment?

Sometimes we have to briefly look back at our past in order to move forward. It doesn't mean living through the moment all over again and dredging up difficult feelings. It is taking five minutes to reflect on past circumstances which can lead to years of future freedom.

In this episode, "Discovering the Entry Point" on the "Prophetic Spiritual Warfare" podcast, I will teach you how to easily identify what has been plaguing your mind and how to quickly go back into your past to discover the entry point and root out the legal right.

Listen now for your opportunity to receive accelerated freedom.
