

Is Casting Out a Demon Always Necessary?

In a recent episode of Prophetic Spiritual Warfare With Kathy DeGraw on the Charisma Podcast Network, Kathy shares how while the demonic realm is always active, there may be more to deal with than just casting out the demons in your life.

Kathy says, "Deliverance is a ministry of casting out demons. But deliverance also is a ministry of closing doors to the enemy, of inner healing, of soul searching, of healing soul wounds and trauma.

"I remember one time I was worshipping and I had my eyes closed. But in the spiritual realm, I just saw the word 'healed.' I don't know what I was healed of that day. But I know that God can do supernatural things through our time of worship."

She goes on to share, "Deliverance is a matter of the heart," adding that Psalm 51 says, "Create in me a clean heart, O God."

Do you have bitterness? Do you have unforgiveness? Do you have offense? Are these things your heart needs to be cleared of?

For more on how your deliverance might be on the other side of your clean heart, listen to the full episode here. {eo}