

Overcoming Fears and Memories that Accuse You

In her childhood, Marylois Little had some merciless cousins who locked her in the closet, causing her to be haunted by fears for decades. When her naval officer husband was out at sea, this young mother of a toddler couldn't bear to walk through a room alone in the dark. She had to plan her bedtime routine to shut off the lights along her path from the kitchen to the bedroom, turning off the last one just as she jumped into bed. She was sure an enemy was going to reach out and grab her. The torment was ruthless!

While they were stationed in Italy, she and her husband were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to grow in their understanding of the Word of God and the spiritual realm. Although Marylois learned that God had not given her a spirit of fear, according to 2 Timothy 1:7, she was still battling this troubling spirit. In her desperation, she cried out to the Lord for deliverance.

Listen to the Global Outpouring Podcast to learn of the tremendous liberation Marylois experienced when Jesus appeared to her in a vision and swept the demonic entity out of her life. You will likely be as amazed as she was to discover what she was really combatting! Now she's as bold as a lion and is a powerful intercessory prayer leader.

Her testimony in this podcast also reveals how she overcame an overwhelming demonic attack of evil imaginations on her mind. Gain faith and courage from Marylois' experiences so that you can press into the Lord for the power to overcome as well.
